TO: Registrants for the April 23-24 PG Bootcamp
FROM: Partners in Policy Governance®, Eric Craymer and Sue Radwan
RE: Transferring your registration to a safer time for group gatherings

As you may have suspected, the April 23-24 PG Bootcamp has been cancelled due to our current global health crisis.

We have been working with the Amway Grand Plaza staff to identify future dates for the PG Boot Camp. As of today, we have three options to offer you to transfer your registration:

Tuesday/Wednesday, September 15-16, 2020

Thursday/Friday, January 7-8, 2021

Thursday/Friday, May 6-7, 2021

Of course, attendance at an in-person event is dependent on availability in your calendar, so if these dates don't work for you, refunds are available. If you are interested in transferring your registration(s), please contact Sue Radwan at suzyradwan@aol.com, or (517) 256-4786, to assure your registration is attributed to the future event that works on your calendar.

We look forward to hearing from you soon with your instructions on how to address your commitment to further your education on the Policy Governance model.

We are attaching the updated flyer for our courses for your convenience and to share with others who may be interested in gaining an actionable understanding of the Policy Governance model.

Finally, our book, Governing by Principles: An Approach to Unleash the Power of Policy Governance®, is nearly ready for printing. We are excited about this contribution to the governance world! We expect it to be available through our website (PolicyGovernanceConsulting.com) and through Amazon.com around May 1.

In the meantime, stay healthy and stay sane during this time of social distancing!
